

Hello!

We're researching nature and wellbeing and we are looking for people with experience of mental health difficulties to help us.

Can you help us test a smartphone App? The App gets people reflecting on the good things about the green and built spaces in Sheffield.

We are running 2 workshops (spring 2017) which could be put on your CV to show that you tested out digital technology for a public health project. You would need your own smartphone and you would be welcome to continue using the App once it is available. We will provide coffee/tea, reimburse any travel expenses and, as a thank you, will give you a £20 voucher at the end of the workshops.
